[1] Establishments in most cases reported average number employees on pay roll during year 1929, thus figures may not agree with total on specified dates.
[2] Employees not classified on automobile schedules or for establishments in towns and cities under 10,000 population, but are included in total.
[3] Includes also the figures for two establishments handling refrigerators (electric).

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] Credit sales are not on a basis completely comparable to net sales in some kind-of-business classifications since certain establishments did not answer this inquiry, and those that did estimated credit sales for census purposes when in some few instances interpreted differently by reporting companies.

[2] Includes 4 establishments handling malt and cream with net sales of $8,172,249.

[3] Includes 10 establishments occupying stalls in the city market of Grand Rapids, which have been included in the wholesale types of establishments in that city upon information that their sales were all of a wholesale nature. These establishments reported 18 male employees who received $14,800 in salaries and wages. The total expense was $124,[illegible], stocks on hand, $8,200, and net sales of $1,093,300, all for cash.

[4] Includes 1 establishment handling cured meats.

[5] Includes 2 establishments handling electric refrigerators.

[6] Includes 4 establishments handling musical instruments and sheet music and 7 establishments handling floor coverings with net sales amounting to $5,117,870.

[7] Includes 8 establishments which handle coffee exclusively.

[8] Includes 2 establishments handling electric refrigerators.

[9] See footnote 3.

[10] Includes 6 establishments handling electrical goods, 4 handling lumber and building materials (other than metal); 2 each handling chemicals, drugs, and allied products, jewelry and optical goods, and tobacco and tobacco products; and 1 each handling farm products (not elsewhere specified), forest products (except lumber), general merchandise, leather and leather goods (except gloves and shoes), and metals and minerals (except petroleum and scrap), which are not shown in detail in order to avoid disclosing individual operations.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind-of-business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage; i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] For the purpose of this tabulation the term "Wholesale merchants" is used to cover importers, supply and machinery distributors, and wholesale merchants (including jobbers and semijobbers). It is not synonymous with "Wholesalers only"

TABLE 12.—NUMBER OF WHOLESALE ESTABLISHMENTS, BY KIND OF BUSINESS, FOR CITIES HAVING 20,000 POPULATION AND OVER

[Table 12 is omitted for Mississippi. The data for Jackson, Meridian, and Vicksburg, the only cities over 20,000 population, are shown in Table 3]

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the twenty-four principal kind of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kinds of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage; i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind-of-business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade. For explanation of commodities included in each classification see complete text, p. 7.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kinds of business classification. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind-of-business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade. For explanation of commodities included in each classification see complete text, p. 7.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind-of-business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade. For explanation of commodities included in each classification see complete text, p. 7.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason, the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kind of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.

[1] The first part of this table indicates the extent of commodity coverage, i. e., the amount and percentage of the total net sales that have been broken down by commodities. This information is presented for each of the 24 principal kinds of business classifications. In the second part of the table the commodities are arranged alphabetically. Under each commodity the sales of that commodity are shown by trades and by types of distributors operating within each trade. For explanation of commodities included in each classification see complete text, page 7.

[2] The breakdown of sales by commodities was in some cases reported on the basis of gross sales rather than net sales. For this reason the commodity sales may in some instances exceed the total net sales by the amount of returned goods and allowances of those returns in which gross sales were used as a basis for reporting the sales by commodities.
